News That Satisfies

The Journal and Courier received a letter this week from a former resident of Jacksonville, now on an extended visit in the South. She requested a number of back copies of the newspapers, which she missed while traveling, and ordered the papers sent to her until further notice. She said that while she reads metropolitan newspapers from several cities, none can take the place of the Jacksonville papers.

The home town paper always has an especial appeal for persons sojourning at distant points. It is better than a letter from home. It keeps the reader in touch with friends left behind, as well as with civic developments in the city and county.

All of us are most interested in the persons and things we know best. That's why the large city newspapers cannot take the place of the Journal and Courier in homes of Morgan county and counties adjacent which go to make up the Jacksonville area. Larger papers printed in distant cities don't have anything about the doings of the people living in the next block, and lack personal appeal. To persons who have moved from a town where they knew most everybody there isn't anything that can take the place of the home town newspapers.

The Strenuous Life

Once again the death of a movie celebrity at a comparatively youthful age comes as a reminder that nature exacts a price for a dazzling and strenuous career.

Douglas Fairbanks Sr., who enthralled the audiences of two decades with his athletic and acrobatic prowess, lies dead at 55, the victim of a sudden heart attack. In the light of what doctors tell us about the relationship of violent exercise and heart disease, the actor might be considered the victim of his own career.

Fairbanks is by no means the first of the early film stars to go at an early age. Indeed, most of the top notch favorites of yesteryear are long since dead.

Remember Mabel Normand, Jack See Deppe's window display of hosiery as sheer as cellophane, in all the new Christmas shades.—DEPPE'S.

and Lottie Pickford, Wallace Reid, Valentino, Roscoe Arbuckle, Barbara La Marr, Pearl White, Milton Sills, Alma Rubens, Marie Prevost, Lew Cody, John Gilbert? Few of them would be more than middle aged now had they lived.

With his former wife, Mary Pickford, and Chaplin, William S. Hart, the Gish sisters and the Talmadge sisters, Fairbanks stood among the veterans of Hollywood. He had won solid success, both in popularity and wealth, and retained it to his death.

Unlike some of his vanished contemporaries, Fairbanks has a chance of being remembered both in the industry and in the movie theaters of the land. His son, who bears the same name, is becoming increasingly popular in the same types of adventurous, strenuous roles Doug Sr. played.

Milwaukee Loans Toys

Probation department officers of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, find that free Toy Loan Centers in high-delinquency areas have brought about a remarkable improvement in the attitudes and interests of the younger generation of Milwaukeeans. It is reported by Joanne Dimmick in the Rotarian Magazine.

"Children who have sufficient toys for their free time are not likely to roam the streets looking for amusement, nor will they visit the 10-cent stores in gangs to raid the counters," Miss Dimmick writes. "Balls, skates, scooters, wagons, tricycles from Toy Loan Centers take them instead to their leisure hours." This Wisconsin city has 15 centers which have made 310,000 loans to 25,000 subscribers, and the attendants at these centers receive the respect and admiration which might be accorded Santa Claus by their youthful clientele.

Pupils seem to study better after a round of fun with Toy Center fun makers, and lessons are learned in keeping track of borrowed toys, treating property with care and consideration. In addition to providing a realm of happiness for boys and girls using the Centers, sponsors of the idea find they foster friendship, forestall truancy, petty thievery, and the inexplicable feelings of inadequacy which prompt children to misbehave.

Milwaukee's Toy Loan Centers—which cater to boys and girls of families which cannot afford a variety of toys, even at Christmas time—receive dolls, books, sleds, bikes, autos, tiny sewing machines, trucks, bats, and a thousand other fun makers from attics, basements, overstocked shelves of friendly merchants, interested organizations, and individuals who have seen the plan work. The Centers maintain their own repair departments and work shops where toys are reconditioned for many happy hours at a time when they might have been thrown away in many a home. Children must register at the Centers, draw toys like books at the library, and return them in best possible condition. And they like the entire procedure, the author declares.

SMALL TALK

Good morning. A brilliant career came to an untimely close Tuesday with the sudden death of Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. If we had to pick one movie actor as the most colorful of all time, our choice would be Fairbanks. His pictures still stand as standards of cinema entertainment. They were uniformly swift-moving, wholesome, and exciting. One of the first movies we saw was Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. in "The Thief of Bagdad." It played at the old Rialto here, and was later shown at the late-lamented Greek Bowl during the summer that excavation was given over to the movie kingdom. Fairbanks' "Robin Hood," in which Wallace Beery played the role of Richard the Lion Hearted, was also shown at the Bowl. You may remember "The Gaucho," one of his last silent pictures, and "The Black Pirate." He played D'Artagnan in "The Three Musketeers" in the silent days, then took the same role in "The Man in the Iron Mask" at the time Hollywood was finding its voice. In that place, Fairbanks spoke in a prologue. The rest of the picture boasted "sound effects" but was not "one hundred percent all-talking."

Fairbanks did Petruccio in Shakespeare's immortal "Taming of the Shrew." His first all-talking picture was a light comedy entitled "Reaching for the Moon." His last picture, we believe, was the one in which he won a bet by living on a tropical island for a period of time—in the not-unfamiliar company of beautiful native girls. You will probably remember the tree-house he constructed for himself; it included even a radio.

This is by no stretch of the imagination a complete or an authoritative list of Fairbanks' pictures. They are the ones that we happened to see—that we can recall at the moment. The name of that last one escapes us, perhaps you can help. Anyway, the point is that Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. was one of the most consistently brilliant entertainers in movie history. He was something of a pioneer, and something of an inspiration. Every boy in the country envied his physique and acrobatic skill. Every girl experienced a flutter of the heart in seeing this dashing, devil-may-care hero who was always, at the same time, a gentleman. Fairbanks was a small man, not handsome according to the accepted standards. But he was so active, so vibrant, so full of life that he dominated every scene and every picture as if he were an eight-foot giant.

At the time of his death he was working on plans for another movie in which his son, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., might star and he himself take a minor part. The entire movie colony is shocked and stunned by his death, but—an even greater testimonial to his immense popularity—every person who has ever seen a movie is mourning the loss of "The Gaucho" and "The Thief of Bagdad" and "D'Artagnan"—Douglas Fairbanks, Sr.

A couple of days ago we described ourselves as sitting here at the desk, sleeves turned back, collar open, perspiration dripping off our brow. It was unseasonably warm, remember? Well, today it isn't unseasonably warm. It just isn't warm at all, any way you look at it. Our chariot went wheezed once or twice before it roared into life, and then it puffed out so much whiteness that we felt rather conspicuous as we drove down the street. It is a beautiful day, though. (This is being written Wednesday morning.) The sky is clear and blue. The sun is shining like anything. May it continue to do so until shortly before Christmas, then, Mr. Weatherman, how about a greeting-card Christmas this year? We haven't had a chance to play with our sled for ages.

The Russians may not be making as swift progress as they hoped and the rest of us feared, but you have to admit they'll carry a fight to the Finns.

Sorry, so to make it right with you, we'll publish a very pretty little four-line verse by an old friend.

The Watch
The moon in golden splendor
Has burned the whole night

While love and I have tended
The path that leads to you.

Thanks a lot. Incidentally, these last few cold, clear nights have been beautiful indeed. No moon, but millions of stars—ah-h-h. Well, must tear ourselves away and see about a little matter called lunch.
See you tomorrow.

Cass Supervisors
Approve Reports At Quarterly Meeting

Will Reconvene Dec. 19 To Finish Business; Get
Offer of Land

Virginia.—The Cass county Board of Supervisors held the December quarterly meeting at the court house Tuesday. As they were unable to finish all business, an adjourned meeting will be held Tuesday, Dec. 19.

Semi-annual reports of all county officials, with the exception of the report of County Clerk George D. Shultz which the board did not have time to examine and which will be taken up at the adjourned meeting, were approved. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Olson were re-employed as superintendent and matron at the county farm at Bluff Springs.

Eighty acres of sand land near Hagener, belonging to the Pilger estate, was offered to the county by the heirs, providing they set it out in trees. A committee composed of Chairman Fox, T. L. Barber, and Gus Carlisle will have charge of arrangements and plans are being made for a transfer of title to the county.

A representative of the Forestry department, Springfield, was present and plans were discussed for setting the tract in pine, black locust, and osage orange trees, the timber to be used for county purposes. The trees will be bought from the state nursery at Havana, and WPA labor will be used.

Miss Ruth Drye, deputy in the office of Circuit Clerk F. W. Plinn, is a patient at the Schmitt Memorial hospital, Beardstown, where she underwent an appendectomy Monday.

White Hall Music Clubs Will Give Programs Sunday

Ladies Choral Club to Sing In Afternoon, Music Club at Night

White Hall.—The two music clubs in White Hall will present their annual programs on Sunday afternoon and evening of Dec. 17. The Ladies' Choral Club will present a candle light Christmas program at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Presbyterian church with Mrs. Fleet Barnett directing. The ladies will wear their new choir robes for the first time at this service.

The White Hall Music club will present its annual program at 8 o'clock in the Methodist church. Mrs. Russell Roodhouse is president of the club. There will be special lighting effects and decorations.

Methodist Class Meets.—The Adult Bible class of the Methodist church met Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Tunison on the farm south of the city. Mr. Tunison had a large evergreen tree in his yard lighted for the first time this season. This is the fifth year Mr. Tunison has wired and lighted the large tree which stands near his doorway, and the tree can be seen for a great distance. Indoors there was a smaller Christmas tree and on the mantle there was a street scene of little houses electrically lighted that was very attractive. During the business session plans were made to serve a chili supper on Jan. 18. There was group singing of Christmas carols, and Christmas games. Those present were the pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. B. D. Mallinson, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Lorton and little daughter Ponda, Mr. and Mrs. Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vaughan, John Safely, Lucille Clark, Noble Vance, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Nichols and daughter Linda Sue, Mrs. O. M. Cherry, and Miss Edna Cherry.

R.N.A. Elects

Evergreen camp, R.N.A., held the regular meeting Tuesday evening and elected officers for the coming year. Mrs. Belle Potts was named orator; Mrs. Beulah Silkwood, vice-orator; Mrs. Elizabeth Dean, recorder; Mrs. Theresa Walton, receiver; Mrs. Lillie Halbert, chaplain.

The Bunco Eight club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Roscoe Walton on Tunison avenue with two tables at play. Mrs. L. O. Goodrich won high score, Mrs. Elmore Dean low score, and Mrs. George Halbert bunco prize.

News Notes

Rev. B. D. Mallinson was the speaker at the assembly in the high school Wednesday afternoon.

The Apple Creek Prairie club met all day at the home of Mrs. Henry Roodhouse on Wednesday with a potluck dinner at noon. There were 25 members and three guests, Mrs. C. B. Roodhouse, Mrs. Fleet Barnett of White Hall and Mrs. Gladys Nesbit of Hillsboro, Ind., present. There was a gift exchange and Mrs. Barnett led in the singing of carols with piano accompaniment played by Mrs. Russell Roodhouse. Mrs. Roodhouse also sang a solo, and Mrs. Merrill Bates played two piano numbers.

According to a recent survey, the city of Los Angeles has one motor car for every 2.8 persons.

HELP
3 PINTS A DAY

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes of filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. Kidneys remove excess acids and poisonous waste from your blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up at night, swelling, headache, nervousness, dizziness and distress. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show a trouble something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Mrs. Leslie D. Day and Mr. and Mrs. George Hoffstetter.

Miss Mary Neely who is attending Central college at Fayette, Missouri, will come to Jerseyville Saturday to spend the Christmas vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Neely.

Modern Poetry Group Meets
With Mrs. Clara O. Black

Miss Mabel Goltra was leader at the meeting of the Modern Poetry Group Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Clara Owings Black as hostess at 112 Park street. Miss Goltra's topic was The World of Tomorrow, a rendition of the six poems recently awarded prizes by the Academy of American Poets.

The first prize of $1,000 went to P. Earl, (Pearl Levisohn). Five other prizes of $100 each were given, but the work of Charles Mallon was thought by many to equal if not surpass the poem written by the winner of the $1,000 award, and all were upon the same topic, and were built largely around the theme of the World's Fair.

Roll Call was responded to with verse of today, some of the responses being original. Miss Goltra read an informative article relative to Finnish poets, and their popularity in Finland, written by Eunice Tietgen, a recent traveller in that country, and a well known author.

the fire committee of the city council, was advised Thursday morning, and probably will be delivered here Friday afternoon.

The streamlined machine, powered by a 12 cylinder motor, is the latest in design for fire fighting equipment. It has a 100 gallon booster tank for use with 150 feet of hose with which the truck is equipped, and a pump capable of delivering 700 gallons a minute. There is also room on the truck bed for 1200 feet of fire hose.

Instead of ladders hanging on the side of the truck as formerly, the two ladders totalling 28 feet with which the truck is equipped will be placed on top, by means of braces which hold the ladders above the hose compartment. The ladders may be removed by pulling out a pin, releasing a bar which lowers the ladder to the ground.

Firemen also no longer will be required to hang on the side of the truck. The new machine is equipped with a catwalk leading into the hose compartment, where firemen may ride. There are no running boards on the side of the machine.

There is room for the driver and two other persons in the front seat of the machine, which has a windshield and side shields of glass, but no top. There are dual wheels at the rear of the truck.

The truck will be equipped with all of the usual equipment, including a fireman's axe, set of hose adapters, a combined flasher and siren, a bell mounted behind the radiator grill, and a Foamite 24 gallon hand extinguisher. There is a compartment on one side of the vehicle for storing tools, extra nozzles and hose tips.

The city council entered into a contract with the American LaFrance Foamite corporation to purchase the machine for $8,000 some time ago. The truck was manufactured at the

Large Crowd Hears Pastor On Spiritual Qualities; Hold Business Meet

More than a hundred parents attended the meeting of the Franklin school Parent-Teachers' Association Wednesday afternoon. Dr. W. H. Pankhurst, pastor of the Congregational church, was the guest speaker. Speaking on the subject, "Development of Spiritual Qualities in the Child," Dr. Pankhurst stated that Christmas is the appropriate time to reflect on the elements of a good home. He listed these elements as environment, cooperation, appreciation, courtesy, cheerfulness, confidence, and consecration.

Mrs. O. N. Foreman, chairman of the committee on legislation for the P.T.A. council circulated a petition for a public policy referendum on the city manager enabling act. Miss Grace Fitch, principal of the Franklin school, announced that the proceeds from the showing of a movie at the school on Friday, December 8, would be used to purchase additional equipment.

Mrs. S. K. Bole, president of the Franklin P.T.A., reported on the recent council meeting. The program was closed with the singing of Christmas carols by the upper grades. The children were directed by Miss Gusie Duffner. Miss Lois Weber serving as accompanist. At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served.

The attendance prize was awarded to the fifth grade, taught by Miss Beata Armstrong. The association is conducting a campaign to interest fathers and mothers in the activities of the P. T. A., and to urge them to attend the regular meetings. A prize is awarded each time to the room best represented by the parents. A score of two is recorded for the fathers, one for the mothers.

J.H.S.-Beardstown Tangle Tonight For Possession Of Jug

Route Plays Cathedral In Double Header; Decatur Here Saturday Night

Jacksonville high and Beardstown basketball teams will clash tonight on the David Prince court for possession of the striped jug. Coach Frank Walker is looking forward to Saturday night when the Crimsons tangle with Decatur's Big Reds on the Illinois School for the Deaf court in a "shopper's special" game.

While the Crimsons are taking on some of the best competition of their as yet young schedule, Illinois School for the Deaf will have a night off, and Route High's Rockets will be embroiled in a double header on the Springfield armory court, playing Cathedral Springfield high has an opponent on the same card.

Beardstown took the striped jug back home with them last night when they soundly thumped the J.H.S. gridders. The cagers have been doing a bit better than the gridders, and there is some hope that the Crimsons can recapture the trophy, and also win Central conference game J.H.S. lost its first start in the league to Peotahone.

Coach Walker has arranged for the junior high team of the high school to play the I.S.D. juniors in the curtain raiser to the Decatur game Saturday night. The feature game is scheduled to begin at nine p. m. He probably will use Junior Sorrells, and Clyde Vaseoncellos as forwards. Junior Underbrink as center. Bob Mayes and Bob Weaver as guards in both games. Horace Stringham, R. Taylor, Dale Hudson, Bill Hudson and Wayne Walker will be the reserves.

Other games tonight include: Alumni and St. Johns at Carrollton. Roomhouse at Greenfield. Gillespie at Jerneseville. Bluffs at Griggsville. Winchester at Pittsfield. Bath at Ashland. Chandlerville at Arensville. Vermilion at Mt. Sterling. Maton at Havana. Pleasant Plains at New Berlin. Waverly at Kincaid. Chapin at Franklin. Milton at Nebo. Chambersburg at Perry.

Saturday
Decatur at Jacksonville.
White Hall at Peotahone.
Watacks at Beardstown.

ASHLAND GRADE FIVE COMPILES A RECORD

Ashland—Ashland grade school basketball players are claiming some sort of a record as a result of their recent conquest of Tallula's grade school team.

The Ashland club all but shut out Tallula, winning a game 66 to 1. Tallula failed to score in the first half, which ended 30 to 0, and got their point in the third quarter, which ended 44 to 1.

The Ashland quintet will play at Our Saviour's against the parish school team Monday in a double header beginning at 7 p. m. James E. "Chick" Frye, formerly of Jacksonville, is the grade school coach.

Disclose Story Of Four Athletic Sons Of M. E. Bishop

Say Four Waldorfs Not Only Look Alike But Play That Way: Facts About Men

Columbia, Mo., Dec. 14.—(P)—Sons of a Methodist bishop, the four Waldorfs of gridiron fame, not only look alike—they play alike.

The collegiate career of the four—some ends New Year's day with Robert and his University of Missouri teammates competing in the Orange bowl at Miami against Georgia Tech. Brother Lynn was a second all-American tackle choice at Syracuse in 1925. Brother John won all-conference honors at Missouri, and Brother Paul twice was an all-Kansas back at Baker university.

Quiet and affable, Robert virtually was a unanimous selection as right guard on the 1938 Big Six all-star team.

Next season he hopes to coach. He has been student grader for Professor Coach Don Patrot's "major sports" classes.

Except for the difference in poundage of the elder brothers, the four are as similar as the sides of a square box. First came Lynn. He thought first he wanted to follow his father's ministerial footsteps but attended Syracuse, majoring in physiology, and wound up as a gridiron revivalist at Northwestern.

After graduation from Missouri John became a gentleman farmer and Big Six official. Paul was a member of a Baker university backfield that went 21 games without defeat. He is now coach at Fort Hays State, Kas.

Sports Experts Of Nation Decide On Comeback Artists

Believe Ambers Ranks Ahead Of Grove: Big Tony's Place Discussed

New York, Dec. 14.—(P)—After considerable wrangling in the ballot box, the sports experts of the nation decided today that Lou Ambers' punches paraded just a little bit farther along the comeback trail in 1939 than old lefty Mose Grove's "dead soupbone."

Two-ton Tony Galento also figured in a three-cornered battle of votes in the Associated Press' ninth annual poll for the leading comeback of the year by an individual. Yet, while these three led the list, the 73 voting experts couldn't get together on any one comebacker who stood head and shoulders above all the others. Altogether, 67 athletes were nominated.

The voters were asked to name their choices for first, second and third places, with ballots counting three, two and one points, respectively. On the basis, Ambers, who exploded the fistie theory that "they never come back" by regaining the world lightweight championship from Henry Armstrong, drew 13 nominations for first place, five for second and seven for third for a total of 56 points.

Six points back of little Lou was Grove, the greatest left-handed pitcher of his generation, who proved that "old man Mose ain't dead." In 1938, lefty walked off the mound one day with a pitching arm gone suddenly and mysteriously "dead." This year, the 39-year-old Boston Red Sox veteran came back to win 15 games, lost only four and turned in an earned run average of less than three per nine-inning game. For this, the experts gave him a total of 30 points, with 10 picking him No. 1.

Nine of the experts selected Galento as No. 1 in a year which saw him skyrocket above the average, shake off pneumonia, actually throw heavyweight champion Joe Louis and then go on to his amazing knockout of Lou Nova. For this record, the barrel-shaped gent from Jersey received 43 points.

Don Meade, out of the saddle for nearly three years, came back to win the Jockey championship hands down. Six of the balloters named this as the leading comeback of '39, and, all told, they awarded the South Dakota rider 29 points for fourth place.

As a sport, baseball led all the rest, with 25 nominees. Clint Brown, the Chicago White Sox ace relief pitcher, polled 12 points for seventh place to come closest to Grove in this department. Golf had 20 performers on the list, headed by Dick Metz with 10 points. Tennis had eight and boxing seven.

Blueboys To Meet First Conference Foes Here Tonight

College Quintet Will Play Lake Forest At I. S. D. Gym At 6:30

Illinois College makes its first effort for an Illinois College conference basketball victory here tonight when they clash with Lake Forest. The game time has been moved up to 6:15 in order to avoid conflict with the annual I. C. Junior Promenade which will also be held this evening. The game will be played at the School for the Deaf gymnasium.

Coach Everett Larson of Lake Forest has but three lettersman back for the '39-'40 basketball season but reports that his group of underclassmen show signs of being one of the strongest at Lake Forest in a number of years. The squad is reported to have speed, height, and a well-oiled scoring combination with ability to throw up a quick and effective defense when the occasion warrants.

Lake Forest letterman back are Bob Patterson and Bob McKenna, both playing guard, and Gates, a forward. Others who will probably fill the other spots on the Lake Forest lineup are George Harrison, junior at the college who plays forward, and Bill Boehm, towering sophomore center.

The Blueboy cagers bowed to the Alton Glass Company five in their first game of the season last week by a 32 to 24 count. They seemed to lack the long and evasive scoring arms of George Maxon who is out of the basketball picture for this year with a fractured elbow. However, the veteran independent team found plenty of determined opposition from the Blueboys who managed a halftime lead but slackened their pace during the second half. Probable starters for I. C. tonight are John Bellatti, Art Yates, Bob McWard, Joe Hagelauer, and Jim Thompson.

Seek Federal Fish Hatchery Site On Lake Jacksonville

Officials Want Division Chief to Inspect A Possible Location

Plans to establish a federal fish hatchery somewhere in central Illinois have led local people to thinking that the new Lake Jacksonville may provide a suitable site. Local sportsmen and the Chamber of Commerce have become interested in the matter and hope to bring Glen Leach, chief of the division of fish culture of the U. S. Bureau of Fisheries, here to inspect a possible site.

City officials believe a site that will meet all the requirements can be provided on the new lake and have offered every possible assistance. Mr. Leach has pointed out that the site should be above flood stage and that a gravity flow of water is also desirable, so that pumps will not be necessary.

There is keen competition for the hatchery. Sites have been offered on both Lake Springfield and Lake Decatur. The hatchery would bring to Jacksonville a small industry and would furnish employment for several persons.

Hospital Redlegs Run Up Big Score

The State Hospital Redlegs gave one of the most convincing exhibitions of their power seen this season when they completely crushed the John A. Wieland cage crew of Springfield last night on a 65 to 26 score. All of the Redlegs were accurate, speedy and hungry for points. The hospital reserves downed Weyand's Shoe Company 25 to 1 in a curtain raiser.

Lorentz and Petratis were officials of the contests.

Heavier Receipts
Slump Hog Prices

Chicago, Dec. 14.—(P)—Heavier than expected hog receipts were weakening influence on the market today and only weights from 220-pounds down were about steady. Others were unevenly 5 to 15 cents lower. Fed steers and yearlings were weak to 25 cents lower and fat lambs weak to 15 cents down, quality considered.

Hog receipts in the opening market totaled 18,000 or 4,000 more than advice estimates, while big packers received another 9,000 market. The market topped at $5.50. Most good and choice hogs weighing from 160 to 220 pounds selling from $5.35 up to the top.

The outlet for steers, especially mediumweights and heavy bullocks, was very unreliable. A sprinkling of strictly good and choice yearlings and light steers sold steady. The bulk of the crop consisted of medium to good weights, bullocks and these, along with comparable light kinds, were weak to 25 cents lower. Best yearlings sold at $10.75 and mediumweights at $10.25. Numerous loads sold from $8.50 to $9.80. Short fed heifers were down 25 cents, cows and bulls were steady. Vealers were unchanged.

Fat lambs were slow. The market topped at $9.10 for woolled lambs, most selling from $8.75 to $8.90.

New York Stock Market

New York, Dec. 14.—(P)—A break of around $3 a bale in recently buoyant cotton futures helped discourage another stock market rally today.

The list extended Wednesday's bulge of fractions to more than 2 points in the forenoon. Then the dip in cotton and hesitancy elsewhere among staples was transmitted to the stock department and initial gains were substantially reduced or cancelled.

Dealings slowed appreciably on the retreat. While some leaders retained modest plus signs at the close, losers were plentiful and numerous issues were unchanged.

Transfers for the full session were in the neighborhood of 900,000 shares. Wall street was still cheerful over yesterday's market turn-about which was credited mainly to the broad forward move in the commodity section.

Silk futures pushed up the limit permitted in a day's trading and wheat hit new peaks at the season. The former held but wheat at Chicago eventually stumbled and finished off to up a cent a bushel. Corn was down 1 to 1 1/2. In late transactions cotton was off 1/16 to $3.05 a bale.

U. S. government securities edged upward, but morning firmness in corporate bonds ebbed at the last. Most Scandinavian loans pointed downward.

NEW HIGHS AGAIN
SHOWN IN WHEAT

Chicago, Dec. 14.—(P)—Although the wheat market had to cope with heavy profit taking sales today, it rose about 2 cents a bushel at times, establishing new high prices that had not been reached here for more than two years.

Profit taking increased, however, as December wheat sold up to $1.04 and all of the gains were wiped out before the close. Rye, oats and soy beans also sold around the highest levels in two years or more. Beans shot up 4 cents a bushel to about 1.18 following reports of a revival of export trade.

There was no change in the winter wheat drought situation and Argentine reports confirmed recent serious crop losses in that country.

Receipts were: wheat 6 cars, corn 124, oats 26.

Wheat closed 1/16 lower to 1c higher, compared with yesterday's finish, December $1.01 1/4, May 98 1/2 c; corn 1 1/4 c lower, December 55c, May 54 1/2 c; oats 1/2 c lower.

SERIAL STORY

SANTA CLAUS BROWN

BY MILDRED GILMAN

COPYRIGHT, 1939, NEA SERVICE, INC.

CHAPTER II

THEY walked along the main street together, in silence for a moment. Glittering window decorations and street lights sent gleaming shafts through the darkness. The soft strains of a familiar Christmas carol came from one of the stores. Thoughtfully, Alice Banks weighed her answer to the child's all-important question.

"Betty, the Christmas spirit is almost as old as the world," she began. "It goes back almost to the time of Christ, when a good St. Nicholas helped the poor and gave generously to people who needed help. Maybe there wasn't a real saint, but so many people believed in him so hard that he had to be real."

"Ohhh!" Betty's eyes brightened. "Did he go all over the world?"

Miss Banks nodded. "And did he have a red suit then, and white whiskers and a round tummy, like Santa Claus Brown?" the child continued excitedly.

"No," said Miss Banks, "he really didn't have those things—or at least we didn't know about them—until a man right here in America wrote a poem about Santa for his own little children. That was about 1800, I think."

And he wrote the poem we all say every Christmas—'Twas the night before Christmas . . ."

"When all through the house, not a creature was stirring—not even a mouse. . . ." Betty interrupted. She smiled up at her teacher, bright-eyed and happy, her faith restored.

"Did anyone ever really see him?" she persisted. "Very little children do—those who believe very hard. He lives right here—Alice put her hand over Betty's heart—"and the faith of millions of children for years and years has kept him real."

Betty's joy shone in her smile. "I knew there was a real Santa Claus," she said confidently. She waved toward the departed children. "They just don't understand."

Alice Banks stopped before a store. "Run along home now, honey," she said to Betty. "I have to stop here a minute."

The child went on gaily, pausing to wave back at Alice. In Betty's heart was a song. "I knew there was a Santa Claus, just like Santa Claus Brown."

BETTY CARTER skipped along the snowy street, blissfully unaware of the cold, and of the snow which had almost ceased falling. Her own street, Park avenue, seemed a strangely magical new world in its beautiful snow covering.

The vast home of the Donaldsons loomed like a castle at the upper, or correct, end of Park avenue. Far down at the wrong end of the street was Betty's home, sagging and paintless.

Betty lingered in front of Donaldson's, staring entranced at the tail dark pine trees covered with snow, at the brightly lighted windows of the Donaldson home, each lit with a wreath and candles. Then she caught sight of a man, who slowly approached her as he shoveled snow.

"I wish everything could always happen right for you. You're so little and you believe so—hard."

"Hi, Daddy!" she called happily, hurrying over to him. "Hello there, Betty. Why so late coming home from school?"

Carter leaned on his shovel, stared unhappily at his golden-haired daughter in her shabby blue coat. She was so small and trustful. He thought bitterly—she must have a good Christmas this year—she must have one!

"We had a Christmas party in school," Betty said excitedly. "We had a tree 'n' make believe Santa Claus 'n' everything. Come on, Daddy," she begged, reaching to take his hand. "Let's go home together. Your hands are cold. You've shoveled enough snow."

Jim Carter shook his head, tried to look stern. "Run along, darling, tell mother not to wait dinner. I'll be home as soon as I can. Hustle up now. Mother will be worrying."

She left him reluctantly and he resumed his shoveling. The houses grew less impressive as she traveled down Park avenue toward the shabby end of the street. Only one house lay beyond the Carter home, a gaudy square old boarding house that put an abrupt termination to the meandering street.

Betty rushed into her home, straight to the arms of her mother. There was the smell of freshly baked cookies in the air, a warmth and hominess that belied the shabby furniture and worn rugs. A fire crackled in the little fireplace.

"Cookies! Christmas cookies! Gingerbread men—for Christmas!" Betty sang out, hugging her mother. "Oh, I'm so happy, Mother. I'm almost bursting, I'm so happy."

"You're late, dear," Mrs. Carter said. "The school play must have been over long ago. I wanted to come, but I couldn't get away. Daddy—"

Betty's happiness faded suddenly.

John Clark Granted First In Freshman Debates At College

I. C. Prizes Go To Three Local Debaters In Annual Contest

Members of the Jacksonville high 39 graduating class took all the honors in the annual Illinois College freshman debate tournament completed yesterday afternoon. John Clark, a J. H. S. varsity debater for three years and national finalist in extemporaneous speaking, was awarded first prize, receiving the highest of three cash awards.

John Self, who was Clark's negative colleague throughout high school debate and also was paired with Clark in the freshman series, was awarded second honors. Self was outstanding in humorous reading while representing J. H. S. in state tournaments, besides debating. Paul Findley, third member of last year's J. H. S. graduating class, was granted third honors.

Self and Clark supported the affirmative in the resolution "Resolved, that the Illinois College shall be owned and operated by the present government," while Findley defended private ownership.

John Wright, professor of history at I. C. and debate coach announced yesterday that the excellence of all debaters in the competition prompted the debate committee to place all of the debaters on the varsity debate squad. It was previously planned to grant varsity positions to the first five ranking freshman debaters. Others entered in the competition and who will be on the college varsity this year are Robert Schmidt, of Freeport, who was a member of a state championship debate team from that high school, Merle Guthrie, Ezra Sarachan, of New York, and Robert Oxtoby and Curtis Hill, both of whom participated in J. H. S. debate and were members of the 39 high school class.

Dr. M. F. Ravelly, Dr. Charles Frank and Ned Donahoe, all of the I. C. faculty, served as judges during the series. The competitors were divided into four teams, two supporting the affirmative and two the negative. During the course of the week each team debated twice.

In the first debate held Monday afternoon in Jones building on the college campus, Oxtoby-Schmidt met Hill-Sarachan. On Tuesday Clark-Self debated Guthrie-Findley. Wednesday afternoon Oxtoby-Schmidt argued with Guthrie-Findley, and yesterday Clark-Self opposed Hill-Sarachan.

Individual ratings were made on the basis of soundness of argument and ability to present it. Though not affecting the individual ratings, the judges gave decisions at the close of each debate. The first and last debates went to the affirmative teams while the second and third debates received divided decisions from the judges.

Plans for further debate activities at the college are being formed by Coach Wright and will be announced soon.

The Wood endowment at the college annually sponsors the freshman competition. Last year's winner was Keith Moesman of Iowa, member of Phi Alpha. This year's three winners are also members of I. C. literary societies, Self and Clark in Sigma Pi, and Findley in Phi Alpha.

Dr. Paul Rowland Speaks At Meeting

School Masters Club Hears Discussion Of Russo-German Alliance

At the regular meeting of the Morgan County School Masters Club, held last night at Woodson high school, Dr. Paul Rowland discussed the European situation and the significance of the official alliance between Russia and Germany.

Dr. Rowland, professor at MacMurray College, lived for 14 years in Bulgaria and Russia and is a recognized authority on central European and Balkan problems. In his address, the speaker said that a true alliance or cooperation between the Slavic and Teutonic races is hardly conceivable, pointing to the constant struggle between the races throughout history.

He viewed the present official alliance between Germany and Russia as one of no lasting or binding significance and looked for an early breach between the countries.

The next meeting of the School Masters Club will be January 14 at MacMurray dining hall, at which time a panel discussion on the testing program at the local high school will be presented.

Those attending the Wednesday meeting from Jacksonville were John Smith, J. C. Hatch, J. M. Hollowell, Stanley Mader and John Deem.

H. S. Athletes Are Awarded Honors At Special Assembly

Football Players Are Given Letters By Queen Of Homecoming

Sixteen high school athletes were presented with awards for participation on the high school football team during the 1939 season in a special assembly at the high school Thursday afternoon. The awards were given to the boys by Mary Aton, J. H. S. senior who was chosen as queen of the 1939 homecoming in October.

The awards, large felt letters in the shape of a "J", were given to those boys who had played in two-thirds of the total number of quarters during the season. A good attitude, reporting regularly for practice, good cooperation and a high scholastic ranking were also factors on which the award was based.

Following is a list of the boys receiving awards:

Local Attorney Is Defendant In Suit

Plaintiffs Ask Damages In Circuit Court Action Brought Here

Suit was filed in circuit court here Thursday by Verne J. and Irma Reese Walters, against Elmer E. Hallgrove, local attorney, in which the plaintiffs asked judgment of $1,650.

The suit grew out of an agreement the plaintiffs allege they had with the defendant in the handling of legal matters.

The complaint, filed by the plaintiffs' attorney, Carl E. Robinson, alleges that the plaintiffs retained the defendant as their attorney for the purpose of collecting a sum of money on a note they held. The plaintiffs allege the Jacksonville attorney disposed of the note and has not turned all of the proceeds to them.

It is alleged the note upon which the plaintiffs asked the defendant to take action was in the amount of $3,500, and that he received a portion of that amount. According to the complaint the plaintiffs were paid some of the amount received by the defendant, but have not received what they claim is their full share.

Expect Industrial Production To Aid; War To Have Little Effect In 1940

Domestic demand for farm products will probably average stronger in 1940 than in 1939, said agricultural experts at the district agricultural outlook meeting held at the First Baptist church here Thursday. The speakers did not anticipate that the European war would cause any appreciable upturn in the prices of agricultural products, but based their ideas of stronger markets on an expected increase in industrial production. However, it was pointed out that possibly within the next year there will be a temporary reaction from this level if large inventories begin to accumulate.

W. F. Coolidge, Morgan county farm adviser, presided at the meeting here yesterday, the program starting at 10 o'clock in the morning with representatives from counties in the district being in attendance. The morning session was attended by both men and women the subject of the first speaker, E. M. Hughes, it was agricultural economics department, University of Illinois discussing "General Economic Situation." His talk was followed by an address by Cleo Fitzsimmons who spoke on "Farm Family Living."

At noon those in attendance at the conference enjoyed luncheon after which talks on crops and livestock were made. J. C. Hackleman, crops expert from the University of Illinois discussed the feeds and crops situation and H. G. Russell of the livestock division talked on the livestock outlook for 1940.

Favorable Factors
Favorable factors in the general agricultural outlook, as pointed out by Mr. Hughes were: New construction is needed in many lines; increase in rearmament expenditures may more than offset a decline in other types of government spending; credit for both agriculture and industry will continue to be available; possible export needs because of the war.

The unfavorable factors were listed as: production moving faster than consumption; the European war and its effect upon industry and agriculture in this country being uncertain; small war orders; unemployment volume large—little change for improvement; federal budget remains unbalanced.

The discussion of the farm family living brought out the statement that net returns from farming are expected to increase more than gross returns in 1940 because production expenses will rise less rapidly than gross receipts. Income from government payments probably will be about the same as in 1939, but there is prospect of non-farm earnings of family members increasing because of greater opportunities for employment.

At the afternoon session Mr. Hackleman, in discussing the crops outlook, said United States supplies of feed grains and forage crops are again
